Jesser has a great personality and a positive attitude towards learning English. He is a friendly, cheerful student who seems to enjoy classes and generally gets along well with the other students.

Jesser has a positive influence on class activities and likes to lead the other students. She is a steadfast, conscientious worker and an example to others.

Jesser loves to participate in class and has a strong vocabulary and good speaking skills. He handles most of the material well and doesn't hesitate to answer questions. He has no problems reading at an appropriate pace and flow for this level. He is a great reader and I encourage him to stretch himself by reading more complex books at home when He has the time. He has repeatedly demonstrated a remarkable listening comprehension. In listening comprehension exercises and activities, she does incredibly well.

I am happy with his general progress and understanding of the materials we are studying. She has demonstrated an attitude for English that will serve him well in him future studies and in later life. I am confident that Jesser will become an excellent English speaker if He continues to pay attention. Keep up the good work, Jesser !
