Mariem is well behaved and attentive in class and in spite of her quiet nature she makes an effort to participate and engage.

Mariem has settled into this class very well. Her work shows interest and pride. She does good homework and is very courteous in class. She speaks in clear sentences. She appears to have quite strong vocabulary and her answers to questions are usually accurate. Her reading skills are great for this class and the materials we are studying.

She is a great reader and I encourage her to stretch herself by reading more complex books at home when she has the time. Mariem has good grammar knowledge and vocabulary skills. She can usually complete her book work and follows directions well. She listens attentively and always understands what I'm explaining to the class. She is easily able to follow the flow of natural conversation and understand complex dialogue involving multiple participants. She grasps new material quickly and is making great progress.
